SO YOU WANT TO START A BUSINESS IN INVER GROVE HEIGHTS?

Congratulations, and thanks for choosing our city!

Businesses like yours are a valuable part of our vibrant city. The City of Inver Grove Heights wants to help provide you the information you need to succeed.

No doubt you’re eager to get going and make your dream a reality. That’s where this guide can come in handy. Think of it as a road map to help get you from the planning stage all the way to your grand opening — and beyond. In fact, the diagram shown below is a high-level map of the potential paths through the process, start to finish.

Let’s get started!

Starting, expanding or buying an existing business

Your Journey Map
step one
IMAGINE IT

Seeing your vision through to the end takes planning, vision, research and even more planning, but we know you’re up to the task.

From creating a business plan to thinking about where you want to conduct business, we have the knowledge to help pave the way and steer you around potential roadblocks.

take action

• Create a business plan
• Contact the city for information on starting a business in Inver Grove Heights
• Research locations
• Register your business with the Office of the Minnesota Secretary of State
• Hire a real estate broker
• Decide to own or lease
• Find professional services: legal, accounting, insurance

HOW THE CITY CAN HELP

• Contact the city early and often. Our staff is ready, willing, and able to help guide you through the process and help you avoid potential pitfalls.

• Got zoning questions? City staff can help you understand the existing zoning code for a property.

• Before signing a lease or purchase agreement on a location verify with city planning staff that the space can be used for the type of business you want to open. For example, you don’t want to find out you can’t open a car wash in a residential area after you’ve already signed a 2-year lease.

THINGS TO KNOW

• Writing out business goals and action steps in a business plan helps potential lenders or investors understand your idea and how your business will be successful. The Minnesota Department of Employment and Economic Development has loads of helpful information on writing business plans and other aspects of starting a business.

  W www.mn.gov/deed/business

• Beyond the financials, be sure to include basic information, such as work experience, days and hours your business will be open, equipment specifications (pizza ovens, copy machines, etc) and other basic operation plans.

• You can identify vacant building status by contacting Progress Plus. If a building is vacant, talk to city staff about the requirements associated with that designation.

• Sewer Availability Charge (SAC) fees can add significant upfront costs to a project. Contact the Metropolitan Council early for an estimate of these fees based on your location and use.

  W https://metrocouncil.org/SACforms

• As you look at properties, it helps to be represented by a legal and/or real estate expert. They can assist you in getting the best deal possible and make sure you are legally protected.

FIND FUNDING

We have great local lending institutions! Other organizations are also willing to show you the money, so do your research and check with state and federal programs listed in “Other Resources” section (page 4) for non-traditional funding opportunities.

Once you have a clear idea of what it may take to operate your business, you can explore options to raise or borrow the funding you need. There are various programs and sources that may be happy to lend you capital. You just have to know where to look and how to ask.

“Where can I raise or borrow money to help make my dream come true?”

step three

FIND FUNDING

Knowledge your Options....

Things to consider before going to apply for funding:

1. Create a viable business plan.
2. State how you want to spend your finances.
3. State the amount of money you need.
4. Know your credit score.
5. Clean up your credit report.
6. Assess all your lending options.

TAKE ACTION

- First impressions make a difference. Get your business plan together first.
- Develop a full cost projection of your business, including extra funds for unexpected expenses and/or delays.
- Explore financing options available through banks, non-profit and community lenders, city funding programs, and other investors.
step four
GET APPROVALS

As your first step, please contact the city to determine the number of approvals, expected timeframe and permit fees associated with your business plan. City staff are available every business day to answer your questions and guide you through the process. Reference “Partners & Services” section (page 5).

The approval process varies based on your scope of project work, business type and desired location in Inver Grove Heights. Some business plans will require more approvals than others. Staff from Planning, Building Inspections, Engineering, Public Safety and the City Clerk’s office will assist you with one or more of the following. We look forward to serving you!

☐ ZONING APPROVAL
The zoning code dictates where businesses may be located in the city. The zoning review process will determine if your business can operate at your desired location. In some cases, a variance, rezoning or a conditional use permit may be required. Scaled drawings with elevations and a site plan may also be required.

☐ SITE PLAN REVIEW
If any physical changes will be made to a property, a site plan must be created by a licensed professional and submitted to the city. Once submitted, multiple city departments will review the following elements of your plan; zoning, traffic, public utilities, grading, deconstruction, stormwater management, landscaping and fire safety. Permits related to these items may be required for your site and will be discussed during the site plan review.

☐ BUSINESS LICENSES
The city issues required licenses for motor vehicle sales, trash haulers, liquor sales and distribution, gambling, massage, and service stations. A public hearing process is required for some licenses. Some business types may also require county and/or state licenses in order to operate.

☐ BUILDING PERMITS & PLAN REVIEW
Physical changes to a building or changes in a facility’s use require a building plan review. Building plans must be prepared by a MN licensed architect and include existing uses, building type, complete code analysis and scaled drawings. Building construction cannot commence until the city reviews the building plans as part of an application for a construction permit and it is formally approved by the city’s chief building official.

☐ COMMISSION AND COUNCIL APPROVALS
Some approvals listed above may need to be reviewed and approved by the Planning Commission and/or City Council. You may be required to go through the public hearing process for approval which could take 60 to 90 days.

☐ BUILDING CERTIFICATE OF OCCUPANCY
After all final inspections of construction permits are approved, a certificate of occupancy is required to occupy any new building or existing building/tenant space with new commercial uses. This final step will ensure the building is safe to be occupied for the designated use. This requirement often requires a final walk through by the city’s chief building official and city fire marshal.
Some approval steps may happen simultaneously. Review the “journey map” at the front of this guide to see how the various approvals, permits and licenses are interrelated. Talk to the city about what you may need to realize your dream.

Review all commercial leases closely, including covenants or any restrictions. Consult with your attorney and realtor.

Not every permit or license is required for all businesses. For example, if you’re taking over a business and not intending to make any changes to the physical space, you may not need a construction permit.
First off, congratulations are in order!
And, so are thanks for creating jobs in Inver Grove Heights!

You’ve dreamed. You’ve planned. You’ve secured funding and all the needed approvals. You’re so close to opening your business, you can almost hear that little bell above the front door ringing.

Now, it’s time to think about new hires and beyond. Before bringing anyone on board, be sure to learn about labor and tax requirements at the local, state and federal level.

“My dream is almost a reality. What’s left for me to do as I open and grow?”
